

MY STAY DIARY

Name: Flavia Mansilla

Nationality: Argentinian

After an arduous and exhausting trip, I arrived in Japan with many illusions and desire to learn from their culture and their progress. I have been surprised by the kindness of the people, the order, the cleanliness and the technology, but above all, when arriving in Sendai and knowing the beautiful working group of Dr Kitazawa, I met colleagues always willing to help, even though the different languages are often complicated for everyone. Thanks to them I was able to adapt to their way of life and customs, and to know charming places like Yamadera and Matsushima, where I could spend unforgettable moments. The work in the laboratory is intense, however I am very happy to advance and know that although our cultures are different, we love what we do and do our best to obtain high quality in our research work. The days are passing very fast and maybe mid December comes soon, however there are still many beautiful moments to share.

Aknowledgements: I would like to thank JSPS Core-to-Core program support for my research work.
